Nation is developing and there is requirement for development in several fields. India has fought intensely to achieve Independence, presently India is still making a struggle to realise its Siddhantam. At National level development is happening in varied levels, like, India is continuously fostering "Ekata" Unity & Harmony "Maitri" within people of different languages, different beliefs with a common basis & culture. Third is "Sadbhavana"- due to wrong propaganda, due to insufficient presentation, & projecting right things as wrong, there is confusion lingering till now. Still, due to culture, belief and faith in peace, truth, responsibility, goodness, hope, hard work & justice with great patience & responsibility, India is slowly progressing.

Despite confusion & conflicts since several centuries, what is the prime driving force of India's progress? Is it strength, Power or Money? Belief of the people of this country on Dharma, God & Values is the reason that has enabled to progress despite the adversities. Solidarity, devotion & sacrifice enabled to achieve Independence. The objective of Independence has to be realised. It should be beneficial & the efforts of those who sacrificed for this should not go waste.

Training people without bad qualities, with positive & constructive energy, with national feeling and with an objective to rejuvenate nation building should be our prime objective.

India's lifestyle, administration, family values, etc can be an example for other nations only when our own people are well aware & trained in these aspects. Endowed by its diverse varieties visible in mountainous areas, North Eastern areas & Kashmir (etc) also known as Kashyapa Bhumi, India is one because of its culture. By proper vision, extending required help & service in underdeveloped areas like Bastar and consistent dialogue, will bring everyone even closer.

Today there is need to bring to light the true, great history of India. Lives of great Rishis, Mahatmas, great thinkers, and our scientists etc, the real history that can take us forward should be brought to light. Spirituality, Mouna, Penance, Upavasa, Dhyana, Japa should be taught to our younger generations. Individually, we can always contemplate as to "Who Am I", but for an organisation, as a responsible citizen of a country, we have to ponder as to "Who We are".

This kind of thinking is beyond any narrow view as it helps to realise as to which civilization we belong to, whether our feelings are simple and compassionate, and envisage our vision and policy. This will promote peace and only in peace, Unity is possible. Satvic qualities, feeling of sacrifice and harmony also enables to achieve peace.

God's bounty can be seen in the entire world, in India also. We can say with confidence that in India, being noble is our prime objective, and we should learn all that is good from everywhere. In the basis of Vedas, Shastras, Upanishads, Tirukkural, Bhagavadgita, Mahabharata, Ramayana, the life style of an individual, family, region & nation has been shaped in this country.

Hence the foundation of Bharat is bereft of selfish thinking, is in tune with nature, and wishes for the welfare of one & all. On this auspicious occasion of Vijaya Dashami, with prayers to Goddess Kamakshi, blessings is conveyed for noble thoughts, healthy and prosperous life.

Jaya Jaya Sankara Hara Hara Sankara

Ancient Knowledge - Treasure of India (Nov 2016)

Ancient Indian knowledge is a guiding light for humanity. The knowledge was carefully passed on from generation to generation in oral tradition and the advent of written format predominantly seen in manuscripts strengthened knowledge transmission and dissemination. The manuscripts used to be generally stored in loft racks in Indian village houses and maintained therewith available facilities. Due to various reasons, several such treasures were lost and only a few has remained.

Old libraries in Nepal, Baroda, Mysore, Thanjavur are a repository of these treasures. There are many manuscripts in foreign libraries too. The library at Kanchi Math contained several such manuscripts and now have been carefully preserved in the International Library with the blessings of Kanchi Acharyas. His Holiness in his yatras especially in rural villages of Tamilnadu & Andhra Pradesh had made it a point to create awareness to preserve and collect such manuscripts. Senior devotees fondly recollect the very many hours His Holiness used to spend in deep study and contemplation in the Kanchi Math's library in his early years. The books have now been catalogued and kept in the International library. The Library was planned and constructed in early 1990's as guided by His Holiness on the lines of ancient library structures of Cambodia- The Land of Hindu Temples. An old inscription in Cambodia mentions about establishment of " Pustaka- Ashrama ", Library, by a Royal family.

This recording was captured in the residence of Sri Chinthamani Ganapati Sastry of Samalkot, Andhra Pradesh who are traditional devotees of Kanchi Acharyas. His Holiness in the morning hours of the day saw the collection of books in their ancestral house which had a good collection of Sastric books. Both Acharyas had camped there in Karthika Masam, November 2016. Karthika Somavara Ekadasha Rudra Abhishekam Puja as part of Chandramouleeshwara Puja was held at their place and His Holiness had darshan at Bhimeshwara Swamy temple.
